Temi Tea Estate lies in the protected Himalayan valleys of South Sikkim — a state that achieved full organic status in 2016, making it one of the most ecologically preserved growing regions on Earth. The estate spans 440 acres across gentle loamy slopes, nurtured by four distinct seasons.

Elevation is not merely a statistic here. At 5,500 feet, cooler temperatures slow the growth of the tea leaf, concentrating the natural compounds that give Temi its signature character — a copper-

— OUR STORY

A Kingdom's
Gift to the World

"Every sip whispers a story of Sikkim's history, landscape, and mysticism."

Not very long ago, in a little Himalayan Kingdom, the story of Temi began to brew. Here a King welcomed, wholeheartedly, his neighbours displaced along the Silk Route. He gave them home, and then decided to give them purpose too — converting 440 acres of land into a sprawling tea plantation on gentle loamy slopes, just perfect to grow tea.

With the people, nature too worked its magic. Spring, Summer, Monsoon and Autumn nurtured this little tea garden, giving each flush a singular character, completely unmatched. Today, the tea grown in Temi tells us of the last King of Sikkim.
